In simple terms, this means you can put down a small deposit to open your position instead of having to pay a large amount.

The easiest way to do this is to watch the lines leading up to the game and decide if you want to bet now, later, or not at all.

Let's say you place a bet on Team A to win.

How To Read a Point Spread

Take a look below to see them.

Let's say Team A has +10 (-110) odds and Team B has -10 (-110) odds.

Spread betting is when you bet on a team to either win by a certain number of points or a team that has to lose by less than a certain number of points.
