Supreme Court struck down the Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act, opening the floodgates for legalized sports betting from coast to coast.

As of this writing, 13 states have already legalized sports betting and 29 more are moving towards legalization.

(And that's considered a conservative estimate!) What's more, this new gold rush is creating hundreds of thousands of new jobs and driving exponential hiring in several exciting career areas-both in the online and offline (casino) space.

So the need for savvy marketers who understand sports bettors is poised to explode.

Look for new roles developing relevant gaming content, predicting complex persona-based customer journeys, and tracking customer preferences and behavior. Customer Service

It's an exciting way to be a part of this new industry.
