How to avoid negative Google reviews
You risk tens of thousands of dollars in FTC fines (or more) if you pay to buy Google reviews.

Don't become the next cautionary tale...especially since there's so little to gain from buying Google reviews and it's so easy to get perfectly legitimate reviews from real customers.

And when Google removes your paid-for reviews, you'll get no return on all the money you spent to buy Google reviews in the first place.

Google has conquered over 90% of the desktop market share for search engines for a reason.

And all of those algorithms are focused on a single goal: Help searchers get the best possible answers to their searches.

Give the customer about 1 week to respond to your email or text. If you don't get a response in that time, send a second email to follow up.

What to do when you don't have enough happy customers
