No you can not. Amazon and Lyft are two separate companies. Amazon gift cards are only usable as payment on products amazon sells on their website. Nothing else. Why do you think that you can use a gift card for merchant on another one. Do you think Walmart accepts Target gift cards? Or Home depot accepts Lowes gift cards? Why would Lyft accept amazon gift cards? Because the owners like shopping at amazon? Your question is ridiculous.

I ordered a figure on Amazon and, if I cancel that item on Amazon, will I get my gift card money back? I payed with a 50 dollar gift card and payed a dollar with a regular card.

If you paid by the gift card and order is cancelled so you should have get refunded instantly, but first check order is showing canceled or not if yes then talk with customer support and if showing attempting to cancel then you need to wait till cancellation

An amazon gift card does not work that way.
