This gives you more control over the user experience and allows you to better customize the ads that are shown to your audience.

CPC or Cost Per Click is the amount of money that an advertiser pays you for every click on their ad. So, if an advertiser paid you $5 CPC, then you would earn $5 for every person who clicked on their ad.

2. Estimated Earnings Per Subscriber

The largest website of all, according to Alexa, is Google itself. The second largest site (since April 2016) is YouTube. So it is probably no surprise that YouTube is very important to Google in terms of AdSense revenue. It has to be remembered, of course, that Google owns YouTube, doubling its importance as an advertising platform. Possibly this is the reason why Google has different rules for Ad

Sense on YouTube compared to AdSense on other video platforms.
