The last thing I wanted to cover in this post is that besides Pinnacle other bookies may not be so welcoming to your arbitrage betting.

They will allow it for some time but as time goes on they might limit your account.

Meaning, that you will be able to bet only small bets which will not bring a lot of profit.

There are plenty of bookies to choose from so don't be discouraged, simply use different bookmaker.

What you need to do is simply make an arbitrage bet between the account you want to get your funds out, to the account you want your funds to go.

Make sure to have the favorite of the bet to be placed at the account you wish to have your funds at.

Now that you have all the knowledge and tools, arbitrage betting could definitely become your second income as it works in long term and provides constant profit.
