FA Cup outright winner odds

City can take a step to the treble

Premier League champions Manchester City are the favourites to make it a double and win the FA Cup final on Saturday afternoon at Wembley Stadium (3pm kick-off)

The Red Devils are the distinct outsiders at 27/10 to lift the trophy and end Er ik ten Hag's first season in charge with two cup wins, after their Carabao t riumph back in February.

When these two sides met in the league this season, the results went with home a dvantage: City won 6-3 at the Etihad in October but United prevailed 2-1 at Old Trafford in January.

If the Light Blues are victorious at Wembley, they have the chance to match Unit ed's treble from the 1998-99 season when they face Inter Milan in the Champi ons League final on June 10 in Istanbul.

Of course it is not just the outright winner odds that are available for the big game at Wembley and you can find the prices for the other key markets below. Mat
