Amazon now has more than half a million employees worldwide, thanks in large part to a heavy investment in fulfillment centers and its $13.7 billion acquisition of Whole Foods, which had about 87,000 employees when the deal was announced. Bezos said in a letter to shareholders Wednesday that Amazon created more than 1

The average salary for software engineers at Amazon is north of $100,000, according to data from PayScale, a salary comparison service.

By comparison, a full-time warehouse associate at one of Amazon's fulfillment centers in New Jersey could make as much as $13.85 per hour, according to a current job posting. That would come out to about the same as last year's medi an pay.

I am well aware that staying abstinent from gambling is a lifelong journey.
